
Saltwater question?

Posted by Jimmy - 2009/02/07 14:35

guys I am going to pt pleasant tommorow to do some fishing for black fish, Ling(sp?)and cod. What can I expect? I heard they are heading out 20 miles. What kind of a fish is ling? Im totally clueless when it comes to salt. Thanks

I've never been on one of these trips but this much I know. You will be fishing deep, it will be cold on the water and they are all good eating fish. I heard cod is like reeling in a sack of potatoes, Ling I don't know. In any case have a great time and share the fillets.

Ling is closely related to a Cod. They have a little foam on the bottom of the lower jaw. Seriously.

Holy shit what a disaster!! 21 miles off shore and im sea sick. 8 ft swells and windy. The fishing absolutely sucked. Which in a way is good because there was no way I was fishing.

Sorry to hear that you had a lousy outing!
I would definitely go on a boat to fish in February but it would have to be in the Bahamas or the Caribbean! Even if it were calm out there it had to be freezing! :huh: :dry:

sorry the trip was shitty Jimmy.....winter fishing on the ocean blows.

wait until the end of march or beginning of april and you'll only have to deal with the rain.
