More of the green ones.....

Had a few appointments yesterday that kept me off the water, but with this morning freed up it left some room to sneak in another few hours of sore lipping some of those green fish.....

My good friend Joe (Smoothpd) had called me last night and asked me to come out on his boat for a few hours.

Water temps - 77-78
Air temps a cool 75 degrees.....nice
Wind N appx 10mph
Water clarity - Slightly stained

Being this was gonna be a quick outing by my standards, we were on the water by 0900 and off the water by 12:30, we relied on the same pattern as me and Kenny tried on Tuesday, only in different locations that fit the criteria.

Again, it was a total smackfest, with a ton of fish boated.....

T-Rigged plastics were all you needed (Good thing, as I only brought 1 rod with me..... )

Find the good weeds, be vigilant of the depth they're holding and pitch away !!

A couple of the better ones.....
