
Pats old trolling motor

Posted by Joe - 2009/08/31 19:48

This message is for Kenny. Ken if you did not know I sold one of Pats old LCG units to Big D. I have $50.00 for Lynn. Have you had any luck with Pats old trolling motor? If not I am considering buying it as a back up. Can you refresh me on the model? I remember that it is a Minn Kota. What is the lbs. thrust? Is it a 12 or 24 system? I run a 12 right now. I think that you said $125 was a fair price. If you think this would be a good idea for me let me know. I will give Lynn the money along with the money that I had gotten from Big D. Then I will get the motor from you whenever.

=====

Re:Pats old trolling motor

Posted by Kenny - 2009/09/01 05:24

Joe it is a 54 Lbs of thrust 24 volt motor. If you are running 12 volts it is a whole new configuration of wiring and another battery plus if you have smaller than 6 guage wire you will need to upgrade that as well. Mike Livingston said he was going to buy it but I have to remember to ask him if he still wants it.

=====

Re:Pats old trolling motor

Posted by Joe - 2009/09/03 07:21

See if Mike wants it first. I will hold off giving Lynn the money until I hear back from you.

=====

Re:Pats old trolling motor

Posted by Kenny - 2009/09/04 19:43

Why would you give her the money ahead of time? Mike says he wants it, I told him $100.00 awhile back he wants me to bring it to Zoar. :huh: :huh: :huh:

=====

Re:Pats old trolling motor

Posted by Joe - 2009/09/05 00:24

I would not give her the money a head of time if Mike is buying it. If I were to take it, then I would bring her the money as soon as possible, it would only be one trip to their apartment that way. However, the point is moot as it fits Mike's need better than mine. I will wait until he gives you the money.

=====