Heres a little tip for ya..

So I get asked a bit, How can you tell the difference of species on your fishfinder..
Besides time on the water...We all catch multi species right,even if it's by accident.drop the fish back down still hooked before you let it go..let it swim under your transducer.Smallies are fun to watch during the initial fight,you will see how they looked stacked up as more times than not there is more than 1.....you will learn alot..hope this helps...
