
Point Lookout with Kenny and Vito

Posted by Bassthum - 2009/05/17 17:50

We had a good morning getting the blues to hit a variety o lures from pencil poppers, to jerkbaits, rattletraps, storm shads, and vito threw a huge chicken scratch bomber and was destroying them. Thick fog for entire day. There was also a striper landed and a couple fluke also.

Nice day out and uncrowded! The fog was unreal, every time we thought it was lifting it came back even heavier!
Fishing that area close to home is great!
Thanks Mike for taking us out! :) :dry:
