Thanks Kenny, and to think that you printed them out on your B-Day.

Due to the fact that there was an error on the weigh in sheet from Swinging Bridge that has now been corrected the standings changed from what was originally posted here!

Therefore this post was edited by Kenny Case. I do not expect it to be retyped here and do not want it retyped here!

Thanks for your cooperation! :blink: :huh:

I need to pull my shit together if I am going to come close to a top 5 finish nevermind top ten. There are many positions that can still change hands.

Tell me something.....was there a reason to put that here? Was there someone who could not see it where I put it? Just wondering! :huh: :huh: :huh:

just figured you didn't feel like typing it over again from the pdf.....

it goes well with the subject heading though..... :) :huh: :dry:

Where you put it it was a little to far to properly stick it up everybodies ass. He wanted to make sure some of the less regulars on here knew that they where his Bitch. LMFHBO!

Okay let me make this very clear!

It is now more work for me to check the standings and make sure there are no errors because someone else typed it!

Please do not help me unless I ask you to!

Thanks....I know it was all in good intentions but let it be! :) :huh: :woohoo:
